Why don't we start a praise band at church"—these nine words changed the course for each of the seven members of the group—"This Side of Mercy." For years, each had had a desire to really see God move in their lives, especially in the area of worship and praise. "It started with us just singing around the campfire and playing our instruments until it got too dark to see and the dew made the guitars go out of tune," says Mandy Bashore

And so the praise band was formed...but God had more in store. God had already called Cary and Mandy to an active ministry in churches, fairs, prisons, schools, etc...and they were seeing God do some wonderful things. "We'd come to praise band rehearsal and fill everyone in on what God was doing and we knew they were always praying for us—it just seemed natural to start bringing them along with us!"

And that's exactly what they've been doing... Through Mandy's original and God-focused music, "This side of Mercy" communicates truths that are penetrating, convicting and inspiring. Their deepening commitment to the Lord gives them a power to minister with compassion that softens hearts for fellowship with God. "We don't know what the future holds," Mandy emphasizes. "but we know the One who does and we know that the things He has planned are better than we can ever imagine!" Why not start imagining things that could happen when "This Side of Mercy" shares with your group?
